

About

We help Fintechs obtain regulatory license in Astana International Financial Centre (AIFC) to operate internationally

AIFC is a 'Dubai-like' international financial centre based in Astana, Kazakhstan is strategically positioned to connect Asian and European Fintech

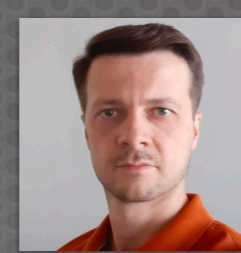

Fully supportive of Fintech, AIFC operates under British common law, has its own courts, and comes with a number of tax benefits

Fintech License-as-a-Service is full service regulatory license setup – we manage the license for you, while you can focus on growing the business

Founders

Eetu Kuneinen

Vladimir Eremchuk

eetu@abac.kz

vladimir@abac.kz

Services

Corporate setup + License

Regulatory Fintech License-as-a-Service

Fully compliant corporate setup, bank account opening

On-going services

Maintain fully regulatory compliant setup, including required local positions, regulatory and govt. reporting, accounting etc.

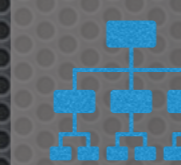

All our solutions are tailored to specific needs of every unique case

Why ABAC

Proven track record of successful licensing for various Fintechs including a two digital banks, small business stock exchange, and e-money business to name a few

Our team is well-known in the AIFC, and has been involved in the financial centre from its inauguration

Using our service the Fintech can operate where they are, and we become their regulatory compliant representative in the AIFC

We help the Fintech accelerate with a fraction of the cost of setting up everything by themselves, as we pool and share resources to our network of regulated Fintech companies

We help to structure your international expansion strategy with full regulatory compliance